Mrs. Romine,

For the last 5+ years, I've focused on developing my career and expertise in business and data analysis for global logistics industry leaders. I am motivated to continue my growth in the business intelligence and data analysis fields. My passion for number crunching, problem solving, and high level of comfort in computers and mathematics supports my passion. I have been aggressively expanding my technical expertise, and am very comfortable with a wide array of software and data systems. My primary focus has been Power BI, DAX, TSQL, and Excel in recent years.

The possibilities that the Business Intelligence space affords companies utilizing big data has become increasing exciting. From in-depth analysis of current metrics to predictive analytics that can inform the business of trends are immensely powerful and engaging to work on. These types of projects are enjoyable and rewarding as they often lead directly to actionable strategies for the business. My background in customer service has helped move these data driven solutions from number heavy spreadsheets, to clear and accessible front end dashboards with a design focused on end-user consumption.

I am detail oriented, structured, and self-motivating. I value clear communication and positive, solution focused collaborative environments. Fast learning and a stubborn work ethic have allowed me to rapidly integrate into new roles and pick up new technologies.

I look forward to connecting in the future, and share further my expertise and skill set that I believe would be a great fit for this position.

Regards,
